Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the center circle as set forth in claim 1 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3711

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 6, 7, 8, 10, 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McAllister U.S. Patent 4,408,761 in view of Fitzpatrick et al U.S. Patent 5,709,385.

McAllister disclosed a sport rink comprising a playing area having a length and a width, first and second ends; a first goal (44) having a goal mouth, and a second goal having a second goal mouth, wherein the first goal mouth is aligned with the first end and the second goal mouth is aligned with the second end; four chamfered corners; a center circle disposed on the center of the playing area; a semi-circular red zone centered on each goal and extending to the center circle. It is noted that McAllister failed to teach a second semi-circular red zone as recited in claim 1. However, Fitzpatrick et al disclosed a sport rink having first and second semi-circular red zones centered respectively on first and second goals (46). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the rink of McAllister with the first and second semi-circular red zones as taught by Fitzpatrick for the purpose of allowing the players earn different points at different red zones.

Art Unit: 3711

Regarding claim 7, 8, 18, and the equal length and width in claim 1, it would have been a matter of design choice to manufacture the rink with any desired dimension and/or shape to accommodate any specific game.

Regarding claims 6 and 20, it is noted that the combination of McAllister and Fitzpatrick failed to show referee positions above the first and second goals. However, it is well known in the art in professional football league such as the NFL or professional hockey league such as the NHL using additional referee equipped with instant replay equipments for reviewing contested plays. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the combination of McAllister and Fitzpatrick et al with any well know referee positions above the goal for the reason as set forth above.

Response to Arguments

In response to applicant's argument that neither McAllister nor Fitzpatrick disclosed the claimed "rink", it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., the definition of rink cited from Webster's Dictionary) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). The table game of McAllister can reasonably characterized as a rink.

In response to applicant's argument that the Office action dated 06/04/2007 does not acknowledge the length and width of the rink are equal, the above explanation directing to claims 1, 7, 8, and 18 clearly explained the Examiner's position on such issue.

Art Unit: 3711

In response to applicant's argument that the Office action failed to address the limitation "a semi-circular red zone to extend to the center circle", the above explanation and the explanation in the Office action clearly address such feature and Fig. 6 of McAllister clearly show a semi-circular red zone extend to the center circle.

In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, it would have been obvious to combine different feature in similar games and/or sports to come up with a different game.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
